UN Forces Astride Road As Congo Tension Rises

ELISABETHVILLE (Reuters) — United Nations forces set up a strongly fortified roadblock on a main road into Elisabethville today, touching off new tension in this capital of Katanga province.

The roadblock was faced by a platoon of Katangan troops about 200 yards away.

New Peru Crisis

LIMA (Reuters) — Negotiations between Peru's two main political parties to settle the controversy over the presidential succession have apparently collapsed, it was learned here today.

Chief UN spokesman Norman Ho told reporters the roadblock was erected "to prevent another mass influx of armed Katangan troops" into Elisabethville.

The road, near a big Negro quarter, was used by 2,000 Katangan troops to march into Elisabethville Wednesday for a

France Repays Big Loan — Ups Canada's Reserves

OTTAWA (CP)—Advance payment by France of $67,000,000 a post-war loan from Canada is giving a boost to Canada's foreign exchange reserves, the finance department announced today.

The amount represents half of the balance remaining on $254,800,000 in Canadian government loans to France to help rebuild that country's economy shortly after the Second World War.

Previous repayments had reduced the amount to $135,200,000.

End Violence Call In Albany

ALBANY, Ga. (AP) — The police chief of this racially troubled southern Georgia city made a personal appeal to Negroes to refrain from violence after stones and clods of dirt were hurled at some of his officers.

Racial unrest and tension gripped Albany anew after Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. of Atlanta, a passive resistance integration leader, began serving a jail sentence resulting from demonstrations against segregation here last December.

King's jailing set off protest demonstrations by Negroes, resulting in the arrest of 32 Wednesday and Police Chief Laurie Pritchett's appeal for calm.

Alpine Tragedy Pilot Acquitted

DIJON, France (AP) — A French military court Wednesday acquitted air force Capt. Bernard Ziegler on a charge of involuntary homicide in the Alpine cable car tragedy last summer which took the lives of six tourists.

Ziegler, 29, flying an F-84 jet fighter, cut the cable on the Alpine line across the Vallee Blanche on the French-Italian border while on a low level reconnaissance mission last Aug. 29.

Ziegler testified maps used in preparing his flight plan did not show the existence of the cable line.

Silent Film Stars Sought

CLEVELAND (AP)—Cleveland police today appealed to the public to introduce them to a trio of silent movie stars. Pictures were taken by a hidden camera Wednesday of three gunmen who robbed the St. Clair Savings Association of $13,365, and shots from the film were reprinted in newspapers and shown on television.

Five years ago — in April, 1957 — a camera concealed in this same office shot film sequences of a $2,500 holdup and the pictures led to arrest of the robbers.

Many calls came into police Wednesday night, but none provided good leads, detectives said. A large group of policemen watched the 2½-minute strip of film projected and also received copies of still pictures made from it.

No customers were in the office when the gunmen herded three women tellers and a clerk to the side, filled a brief case with cash, and fled in a stolen car driven by a fourth man and found abandoned later a few blocks away.

Two of the tellers pushed silent alarm buttons that set the camera in motion. Although the pictures were a bit fuzzy, they included shots of all three holdup men who entered the bank.

Canada's "Rules Breach" Draws Protest By GATT

GENEVA (Reuters)—Several member countries of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade have expressed concern at what they called Canada's breach of GATT rules by raising import duties under its new austerity program, it was disclosed today.

Canada has been explaining last month's measures, taken to protect its dollar and reduce its balance of payments deficit, at a two-day private meeting of the council which ends today.

Several countries have urged that the austerity measures should be considered by the contracting parties to GATT at their next meeting in October. Observers here thought it likely that the council would pass on the problem to this body.

The Canadian representative explained that his country's balance of payments difficulties were a consequence of the changed position of capital, according to the sources.

Canada wanted the measures to fortify its competitive position. They would, however, be abolished when the time was ripe.

The United States representative said his country was greatly interested in the fate of the Canadian dollar, according to the sources. Canada was an important trading partner and its dollar was linked with the U.S. dollar.

It was a pity, he said, no other solution could be found because the United States opposed discrimination in trade. Furthermore, American trade too would be affected by the Canadian measure.

More direct factors listed in a brief to the royal commission on banking and finance were the federal government's exchange-rate policy, withdrawal of withholding-tax exemptions in late 1960, and Finance Minister Fleming's suggestion about the same time that Canadian borrowers fill their needs in Canada.

The brief, though made public only Wednesday, was written early this spring — long before the recent spat between Trade Minister Hees and British Columbia Premier Bennett over the effect of the power-utility expropriation on investment.

URGES CURBS — The association urged the federal government to do everything possible to remove temptations for provincial governments to take over corporations for tax-income advantages.

"Any such action would contribute to the restoration of the shaken confidence of Canadian and foreign investors in investing in electric utilities in particular and private industry in general," the brief said.

R. W. Waddis of the firm of McLeod, Young, Weir and Company Limited, Toronto, told the commission "there is resentment among foreign investors right now of the Canadian market and the whole Canadian economy."

In addition to the influences listed by the IDAC, he added the "disturbed political situation at the federal level." And besides the withholding taxes themselves, another factor curbing investors was the "surge of nationalism" in Canada when expropriations were withdrawn.

M. D. Cox of Anderson and Company Limited, Toronto, added that the purpose of the program is to create additional winter employment," said Mr. Starr, in announcing continuation of the federal make-work program.

He said last winter's program was the most successful since the scheme was first introduced in 1958. It had a "substantial effect" in reducing the rate of winter unemployment.

Triumphant Return By Ben Bella

ORAN, Algeria (Reuters) — Dissident Vice-Premier Mohammed Ben Bella today made a triumphal entry into Oran in further demonstration of his overwhelming support among the Moslems of western Algeria.

Vast cheering crowds lined the streets of this port city to greet Ben Bella.

The powerful revolutionary leader also was welcomed Wednesday by wildly enthusiastic crowds when he crossed the border from Morocco into his native land after five years of exile and imprisonment in French jails.

Churchill Develops Bronchitis

LONDON (AP)—Sir Winston Churchill's doctors said today he has developed a bronchial infection and is running a temperature.

Their medical bulletin was issued from Middlesex Hospital, where the 87-year-old former prime minister has been recovering from a thigh fracture.

It said there has been some reduction in a swelling in the injured left leg caused by a blood clot and phlebitis—vein inflammation.

Vernon Man Badly Hurt

VERNON (Staff) — A Vernon man is in critical condition in hospital today after he connected with high tension wires from the roof of a building being moved on Highway 97A this morning.

The man, whose identity is being withheld by police pending notification of parents in Vancouver, was employed by Mayer Moving and Builders in Vernon who were in charge of the moving project.

About nine miles north of Vernon, manager of the firm, James Mayer, and the injured man attempted to clear wires from the path of moving building, when the 20-year-old man was thrown 10 feet to the ground striking a large timber before he hit the ground. Extent of injury and burns is not known. Mayer was not injured.

GENEVA (Reuters) — Prince Souvanna Phouma, neutralist premier of the new coalition government in Laos, said today he has accepted the U.S. government's long-standing invitation to visit the United States.

British diplomat Malcolm MacDonald shed his official reserve today and treated Laos conference delegates at Geneva to a lesson in the twist.

This took place in the lobby of a Geneva hotel to the approving laughter of delegates including Russia's Georgi Pushkin and Communist Chinese Deputy Foreign Minister Chang Han-fu.

Gov't Urged To Oppose Provincial Takovers

OTTAWA (CP)—The Investment Dealers' Association said Wednesday the expropriation of the B.C. Electric Company was among the indirect causes of reduced foreign investment in Canada.

But the provincial government ded he has found that concern among American investors over the B.C. Electric take-over is "far greater" than the concern of Canadians who were affected.

The association also recommended that provincial governments sharply curtail their issuance of savings bonds to raise money. No provinces were mentioned. But earlier the commission was told of the Saskatchewan government's experience with such bonds.

More direct factors listed in a brief to the royal commission on banking and finance were the federal government's exchange-rate policy, withdrawal of withholding-tax exemptions in late 1960, and Finance Minister Fleming's suggestion about the same time that Canadian borrowers fill their needs in Canada.

BC Indian Village Free Of Forest Fire Threat

OLIVER (CP)—Chief Manuel Louis and his wife were evacuated Wednesday night from their Inkanep Indian reservation home as a forest blaze brought under control earlier leaped a fire guard and raced through 3,000 acres of scrub timber.

Shifting winds however, kept the blaze from endangering the rest of the Indian village.

The blaze covered some 5,000 acres early today and was threatening the West Kootenay Light Company's 60,000-volt transmission line which supplies Oliver with power. At one stage power was rerouted as the blaze destroyed three poles of the other line.

About 80 men with bulldozers were still standing guard today after cooler night temperatures rendered the blaze, which started from a lightning strike uncontrollable.

Sask. Gov't Stands Firm Despite Big Protest Rally

REGINA (CP) — The Saskatchewan government stood firm in its attitude towards medical care insurance Wednesday as thousands rallied to protest the government plan.

In a picnic atmosphere, the good-humored crowd estimated about 4,000, listened to speeches for two hours while a 12-man delegation of the organizing Keep - Our - Doctors Committee met for 10 minutes with the cabinet.

The rally, which brought hundreds from far-flung points in the province, was called to seek withdrawal of the CCF government's compulsory pre-paid medical care insurance plan which went into effect July 1.

Most of the province's 700 practising doctors have refused to work under the plan and withdrew normal medical services in protest. About 200 members of the Saskatchewan College of Physicians and Surgeons have been providing emergency service at 35 designated hospitals since the plan went into effect.

As 25 uniformed and plain-clothed police patrolled the legislative grounds, Liberal opposition members marched down the legislative chamber. They found it locked.

CROWD ESTIMATES VARY

Estimates on the size of the crowd varied widely. Reporters generally agreed on 4,000. Aerial photos viewed later indicated this might be high.

Police Chief Arthur G. Cockson said, "I'd estimate a crowd of 12,000 to 15,000 milling around, and an actual 6,500 to 7,000 in front of the legislative building."

Premier Woodrow Lloyd said his estimate was 2,500 to 3,000 — much less than what people were led to believe could easily be gathered.

He said a CCF-NDP constituency picnic at Buffalo Pond Lake east of Regina on a recent Sunday had an attendance of 3,000, all in favor of the medical care plan.

Mr. Lloyd said the size of the crowd "doesn't lend support to claims of overwhelming opposition to the government."

CRITICIZES THATCHER

The premier criticized the actions of Liberal Opposition Leader Ross Thatcher, who led 18 of the 19 Liberal members to the locked chamber.

He called the action a "theatrical gesture" and said Mr. Thatcher had at noon Wednesday asked for a special session of the legislature at 2:30 p.m.

Mr. Lloyd said the opposition leader was well aware that a special session cannot be called with two hours' notice "because of the physical impossibility of notifying and bringing together members from all over the province."

The premier reiterated the government stand that a special session will be called when it is reasonably certain that a session might contribute to the solution of the present problems.

SUSPEND POLICEMAN

PONTIAC, Mich. (AP) — A policeman arrested a woman for speeding, handcuffed her to a tree in a field, tied her legs, taped her mouth, and left her while he sought a bicycle thief. The patrolman, Richard Wort, 31, admitted to the Tuesday incident, telling his superiors "I don't know why I did it—I am just sorry." He was suspended from the force and placed under care of a psychiatrist.

Socred MPs Get Briefing On Parliamentary Rules

OTTAWA (CP)—Social Credit members of Parliament received instruction Wednesday on Commons rules and parliamentary procedures from Deputy Leader Real Caouette, billed as a "specialist" in view of his previous experience in the House.

A statement issued under the name of Mr. Caouette said also that a national organization was discussed by the morning caucus of Quebec members. National Leader Robert Thompson was to arrive later today.

Mr. Caouette said the party was aiming for a minimum of 150 seats—a majority in the 265-seat Commons—at the next federal election.

Social Credit would do everything in its power to facilitate free enterprise while respecting individuals. But this was not a question of tolerating cartels and monopolies.

He said the result of the June 18 election is proof that millions of Canadians have had enough of the old parties and don't want socialism.

"In spite of the repeated attacks of certain labor leaders, the workers have freely chosen Social Credit because they see in it the solution to the problems which confront the whole

Two New Arms for Battle To Boost US Economy

NEW YORK (AP)—American business today has new arms to fight two of its pressing battles.

The relaxation in depreciation rules for tax purposes is expected to help U.S. industries fight rising costs at home that crimp profits. It also should help them battle foreign competitors who have better equipped plants.

Industry spokesmen may question whether the new treasury rules are adequate to do the whole job they want. But the easier terms should help.

The immediate result of letting corporations deduct more for depreciation of their equipment, the government says, will be a $1,500,000,000 tax relief.

HAS LONGER AIM
The longer aim is to encourage American industry to further modernization—to catch up in a field in which it once led the world.

A corporation can finance new equipment in four ways: It can sell more stock; it can borrow the money; it can retain profits that otherwise would be paid to stockholders as dividends; it can use depreciation funds. Usually it uses more than one of these means.

Since funds set aside for depreciation of old equipment are deducted from pre-tax earnings, the tax collectors have rules covering them.

The old rule in force since 1942 covered some 5,000 types of equipment, ranging from delivery trucks to blast furnaces. The life of such equipment varies, so that depreciation is spread over a varying number of years. But the average life expectancy in the treasury rules was just under 20 years.

Businessmen say this was unfair, because machinery grows obsolete much faster than that today, and also the amounts they could deduct wouldn't cover new machinery that costs so much more than a few years back.

SAN TEK WILL NOT GO . . .

VANCOUVER (CP) — The city zoning department says that San Teko and his pals will have to go if Mrs. William Skinner doesn't get a developing permit.

Mrs. Skinner keeps a varying number of Siamese cats, currently six—San Teko, Blossom, Cindy, Dresden, Quan Win and Petite.

The trouble is that her cats sometimes have kittens and occasionally she sells them.

Zoning chief Ron Matheson says a bylaw provides that you can't keep cats for breeding or commercial purposes without a permit from city council.

"RIDICULOUS"

Mrs. Skinner says the whole thing is ridiculous, that thousands of people keep cats, and that lots of people sell them and that she isn't going to get any permit.

"I'm just going to sit tight," she said. "They are not going to take my cats. They'll have to take me first."

Mrs. Skinner said she gave most of the kittens away and hasn't sold more than six since the felines started to overrun the Skinner household.

Canada To Export H-Plants

KINCARDINE, Ont. (CP)—Canada will soon be exporting nuclear power plants, Dr. J. L. Gray, president of Atomic Energy of Canada Limited, said Tuesday.

During a press tour of the $80,000,000 atomic power plant under construction at Douglas Point north of here, Dr. Gray said Britain, the United States, France, Italy, Spain, India and Pakistan are among countries interested in the Canadian reactor design.

At least two likely will order reactor packages as soon as Canada can quote definite prices he said.

Immediate interest in Canadian reactors was for plants with a power demonstration station on the Ottawa River near Kingston was noted at 20,000 kilowatts but could be boosted to 80,000 without extensive engineering changes.

Dr. Gray said the Canadian design apparently is suited to conditions in other countries besides Canada.

CITY PARK SUNSHINE SMILES ON YOUNG KELOWNA ARTISTS IN PAINTING CLASSES

... CONCENTRATION

Painting in the park classes which began July 3 under the direction of Gwen Lamont are in full swing now as youngsters of tender years to teens take lessons in the fundamentals of drawing. Wednesday, the class took refuge from the sun under the colorful lawn tables on the Aquatic

Rutland Building Booms—Total $519,650 To Date

Building permits issued during May and June in the Rutland district have totalled $149,650, and with the previous reported total of $370,000 for the first four months of the year, brings the figure for the first six months of 1962 to $519,650.

Permits for the building of 11 new homes were issued for May and June as follows: F. Wood-key, Brynden Road, $10,956; J. Flegel, Moyer Road, $14,168; M. Silbernagel, Leathhead Road, $14,400; E. Mettlewsky, Asher Road, $9,350; H. Gatzke, McDonald Road, $11,704; P. Reith and G. Coles, Dougall Road, $10,296; Manuel Weisbeck, Belgo Road, $11,330; L. Schmalz, Donhauser Road, $12,840; M. J. Tataryn, Ziprick Road, $13,200; J. Kopp, Donhauser Road, $10,970; R. J. Stewart, Asher Road, $12,936; M. Surkan, Gertsman Road, $6,000.

In addition there have been a number of permits for additions to present homes, and to commercial premises.

If the present trend continues, the balance of the year 1962 building totals for Rutland should be close to the $1,000,000 mark.

The decision of the Rutland Waterworks District to boost the cost of connections from $85 to $200 after July 15th may, however, have a deterring effect.

LAND VALUE

The assessed valuation of the land here is $9,424,928. Improvements added up to an additional $28,728,690. The total valuation is $38,153,618.

Okanagan Tourist Booth In Business At Kaleden

Newly-built Okanagan Valley Tourist Association booth at Kaleden Junction was opened July 3 at a cost of $900.

Bruce Howard reporting to the Association here last night said the booth so far has been very successful. It is in the vicinity of the weigh scales on the highway and a number of signs have been erected to guide tourists to the information available.

A large supply of apple juice was sent down to stock it today.

HOPE TOURIST SIGN

Vernon delegate Elwood Rice said a sign has been tentatively chosen for an OVTA sign hope. It is near an old sawmill long since unused but still scenic.

MATCHING GRANTS

Official word was received last night from the government that the OVTA's contribution of $15,000 towards tourist promotion will be matched with a similar amount providing it is all spent from April, 1963, to March 31, 1962.

FINANCES

President A. M. Duncan reported to members there is $2,000 in the bank and somewhat tardy Vernon's Chamber of Commerce came through with its cheque for $600 at the meeting to boost the total. About $2,300 has been spent so far on advertising this year. The executive will also consider before next year on hiring an advertising agency to handle all its publicity.

TOURIST DAYS

Mr. Rice welcomed all members to the Vernon Tourist Days beginning this weekend. He said he expected a huge crowd.

Valley Float Stays Put Despite Lethbridge Plea

The Valley float, Kelowna, built and manned, which provided a real hit in Calgary's Stampede parade Monday, won't be sent to Lethbridge this year.

Okanagan Valley Tourist Association executive last night voted to keep the float home for the second Alberta parade July 25 in view of the cost involved. The Calgary trip cost $250 although was taken free of salaries by city employees Hugh McCormick and Nick Nicklin.

BUSINESS DECISION

Mayor Maurice Finnerty of Penticton said the PNE after all is the official provincial exhibition. "We are formed to attract new tourists into the area, not worry about those who know about the Valley as we hope they do at the coast. It should be a business decision not to send the float."

There was some argument that a PNE float is usually entered in the Regatta parade usually on a reciprocal basis.

Reporting on the Valley's success in the Stampede parade,

Mr. Gale told members, the float was a welcome change from all the horses and cowboys and drew many favorable comments from watchers and news media.

EARLY MORNING ACCIDENT SENDS WOMAN TO HOSPITAL

An early morning accident today sent a Glenmore woman to hospital for treatment of cuts and bruises.

Edith Rowe of Highland Drive was released shortly after the accident at 7:30 a.m. when the car she was driving was in collision with a car driven by Rhyndholt Breen, Kelglen Crescent, at the intersection of Bernard Avenue and Glenmore Street.

Damage to both cars was estimated at $1,100. RCMP said no charges were being contemplated. DAMAGE $600

Two cars were in collision on Pandosy Street around 8:45 p.m. last night with a resulting $600 damage. Driver of one car was William James White of Lethbridge. Second car was driven by John L. McDougal of Kelowna. No one was injured and no charges are pending.

Centralized Tourist Plan Discussed At Meet Here

Exploratory talks to centralize was only an "exploratory" meeting and the whole issue will be on the agenda of the British Columbia Travel Association's convention here in Kelowna in September.

Official delegates to the meeting will be Elwood Rice of Vernon and Fred Heatley, expected to attend as onlookers will be OVTA president A. M. Duncan and Bruce Howard.

Meeting in Kelowna Wednesday, the OVTA executive was told the talks will be held to discuss individual problems and the big question of whether or not to form a regional organization of B.C. travel associations.

GOVT. GRANT

At present, the province is broken up into 10 regions, each of which are paid a government grant to match the money they can raise themselves to promote tourist traffic.

It has been felt that the British Columbia Tourist Association should be a group composed of all these regions with a central office to administer the grants.

One OVTA member said individual regions may have to give up a considerable amount of autonomy. "We might be voted down on things that are most important to us."

BE CAREFUL

Mayor Maurice Finnerty of Penticton added, "We'll have to be awfully careful about this. As long as we have representatives from each community, we're safe, but the BCTA at present is made up of all companies, railways, hotels, motels and so on with widely different interests than ours."

Constable Nets Pirate In Chase Across Lake

A joy ride in a stolen boat cost a Kelowna youth $75 and a day in jail today.

Jerry Robert Smith, 19, of Kelowna, was in magistrate's court this morning after he was arrested by RCMP two-thirds of the way across Lake Okanagan in a boat taken from Fred's Boat Rentals at the foot of Queensway Avenue.

Parliament Should Be Called Very Quickly

During the election campaign Mr. Diefenbaker stated that he proposed to call Parliament together in September. The other day he said that he now saw no reason to change that decision.

Mr. Diefenbaker's attitude is somewhat difficult to understand. Apparently he fails to appreciate the extent of the defeat he and his government suffered on June 18th when two out of every three voters voted against his government.

Apparently, too, he does not appreciate that he himself radically changed the complexion of things after the election through his austerity program. During the campaign he maintained that there was nothing wrong with the Canadian economy but within less than a week after the voting day, our economy was in a very serious position.

Mr. Diefenbaker did say that the seriousness of our economic position developed within a period of a very few days. Surely he said this with his tongue in his cheek. He surely is not naive enough to think that the Canadian people are stupid enough to believe this? Does he think that we can believe the bottom fell out of everything after the election? And without any warning? And does he think we are stupid enough to believe all the complicated regulations and figuring were out together in a couple of days? One does not alter some thirty thousand tariff items in a few hours. One must suspect that Ottawa bureaucracy was working on this long before the election ended.

Mr. Diefenbaker's government, which was rejected at the polls by the Canadian people, has commenced to collect millions of dollars in new taxes, has made arrangements to borrow more than a million dollars from foreign sources and has increased interest rates. And all this without any mandate from Parliament itself.

An explanation is due to the Canadian people and to Parliament, and Parliament is the place for that explanation. Canadians know Canada is in trouble but just how serious it may be they have little idea. Parliament is the place for the matter to be thoroughly discussed.

There is another matter which should cause Canadians deep concern. Mr. Diefenbaker apparently expects to go to London early in September to attend the Commonwealth prime ministers' conference. The principal item on the agenda will be Britain's proposed entry into the European Common Market. Mr. Diefenbaker plans to represent Canada.

If he fails to meet Parliament before the conference, obviously he will carry little weight in the conference deliberations. After all, he is a prime minister who does not know whether or not he has the confidence of Parliament. Nor does anyone else. Attend, he may, but he will be so ineffective he might as well stay at home. And this is a very important meeting for the Commonwealth and Canada in particular.

On the other hand, if he went to the conference armed with a vote of confidence in Parliament, he would be able to represent this country as Canada is entitled to be represented. If he should meet Parliament and fail to obtain a vote of confidence, obviously he would have no right to represent this country without having met Parliament.

Mr. Diefenbaker has only one honest course to follow: to meet Parliament as quickly as possible. Both Mr. Pearson and Mr. Douglas have indicated that their groups will support the government in any measure that is for the good of Canada. It would seem reasonable, therefore, that Mr. Diefenbaker could obtain from Parliament some expression of confidence.

Probably never in Canadian history has it been so imperative that Parliament meet at once as it is now. If Mr. Diefenbaker refuses to call a session of the House at the earliest possible moment, the people of this country will be forced to draw their own conclusions. That conclusion can only be that Mr. Diefenbaker is afraid to meet Parliament.

Consider The Bumblebee

Behold the bumblebee, that big, improbable black and gold insect that shouldn't be able to fly but does, that could be a model of industry but isn't, and that is neither meek nor mild though Englishmen call it the bumblebee. It is a hummer and bumbler, noisy as a locust, colorful as a butterfly, and as much a part of the sunny June day as a pasture rose or a wild strawberry.

The bumblebee is an exponent of the easy life and an example of moderation in most matters. Like most bees, it has social instincts, but not to excess; its communities are mere villages, so to speak. Not liking to waste energy, it often nests in field mouse dens in or near clover fields.

Able to make wax, it sometimes fills small waxen jugs with honey for a rainy day or two, but it doesn't seem to think the world will end if it fails to hoard honey by the bucketful. Armed like a white-faced hornet, it seldom goes looking for trouble. Its kind has been here on earth a long-long time.

Bumblebees tolerate man, up to a point, but they refuse to be domesticated. They eat when hungry, rest when tired, and are neither thieves nor killers. They even sleep at night — which is more than can be said for some insects — often sweetly couched in an aster blossom or a zinnia. They aren't as provident as grasshoppers, but they don't work themselves to death in six weeks, either, as honeybees do. Man could do worse than ponder the bumblebees, especially on a sunny June afternoon. — New York Times.

Space Communication System In Canada's Grasp By 1964

OTTAWA (CP)—In two years, the Defence Research Board should have the necessary technical knowledge for building a space communications system based on light waves.

Dr. Gerry Williams of Rose-dorn, Sask., head of the solid state physics section of the defence research telecommunications establishment, said this week that by that time current experiments in this field will determine how such a system can be built.

Whether it will be is, of course, out of Dr. Williams' hands. He is concerned only with fundamental research into the problem.

The experiments are based on synthetic ruby crystals known as lasers, the letters standing for light amplification by stimulated emission of radiation.

Ordinary light waves coming from a single source, such as a flashlight, become quickly dispersed. But light waves from a laser are concentrated in a single frequency and can be focussed as sharply as a needle on a single spot.

These ruby-red light waves from a laser can be modulated to carry information in the same way as radio or television microwaves. Measurement of this modulation now is the main problem being tackled by Dr. Williams and his colleagues at the telecommunications establishment at nearby Shirley Bay.

Light waves as a communication channel have application only to space, where some day they may be used to pass information among satellites and from satellites to planets.

Dr. Williams said that light waves cannot readily be used on earth as a means of communication because of interference from cloud, rain, snow, fog and the like.

If such a system were used on earth, it probably would have to be based on underground "light pipes" carrying the light waves on line of sight.

WAVES TOO NARROW
Dr. Williams said it is doubtful that lasers could be used on their own in a satellite or missile detection system. This was because the light waves were so narrow it would take millions of them to cover the heavens.

However, lasers might be used in conjunction with radar for more accurate pinpointing of an object in space once radar had found the general target area. There was no difference between radar and laser light waves except that the former is diffuse, the latter narrow-beamed.

Dr. Williams said there now are some 20 materials which can be used in the same way as synthetic rubies.

Incidentally, natural rubies aren't used because they contain flaws. But the natural ones still cost more than the synthetic.

UNITED KINGDOM REPORT

Diefenbaker Popularity Waning In Great Britain

By M. McINTYRE HOOD

Special London (Eng.) Correspondent
For The Daily Courier

LONDON—The result of Canada's general election has been received in English business and commercial circles with disappointment. That has been made apparent to me in conversations with men in various lines of business and industry. The election was the main subject of conversation at a dinner which I attended, and at which some of the keenest minds in the business world were concentrating their thoughts on the new Canadian political situation.

The sense of disappointment was very apparent. But what surprised me that most of those who expressed their views were disappointed, not because of the indecisive results, but because of the heavy losses sustained by the Conservatives, but because the Liberals had failed to oust the government from office. Their hopes seem to have been centred on a Pearson victory, which they had been anxious to see achieved.

POPULARITY WANES

This widely-expressed viewpoint indicates that the popularity of John Diefenbaker in well-informed British circles seems to have waned a great deal in the last year or so. It may be that this is because of the Canadian prime minister's unrelenting opposition to Britain joining the Common Market, a view which is not accepted with good grace by the leading industrialists and business men who are anxious to have Britain enter the European group. Be that as it may, I have sensed that there would have been great relief in business circles in Britain if the Liberals had won an election victory and Lester Pearson had taken over the post of prime minister.

MOVING AHEAD

Meanwhile, in Brussels things are moving ahead towards meeting the needs of Britain and the Commonwealth countries in order to make Britain's entry into the Common Market an assured fact. The experts working out details are reported to have reached a satisfactory solution for safeguarding Britain's economic ties with India, Pakistan and Ceylon. Indian officials here claim that they are not completely satisfied with the solution, but at least a plan has been evolved which meets with approval of the Common Market Six and that is a step ahead.

In the near future, I understand, the problems of safeguarding wheat exports from Canada, Australia and New Zealand, and meat exports from New Zealand will be the main subject of consideration, and there are strong hopes that a satisfactory compromise will be reached on these. Other items to be given special consideration, and likely to be exempted from the Common Market external tariff are aluminium and newsprint, both of vital interest to Canada. The British negotiators hope that in all of these fields the Common Market Six will meet them more than halfway, to provide safeguards for important segments of the economy of the major Commonwealth countries.

NEW RELUCTANT PEER

The death of the Earl of Sandwich has brought into the limelight the position of another reluctant peer who will, against his will, have to give up his seat in the House of Commons. The heir to the title of the Earl of Sandwich is Viscount Hinchinbrooke, one of the most vigorous and outspoken of the Conservative members of Parliament.

Lord Hinchinbrooke has previously expressed his ideas about reluctance to accept peerages. It should, he maintains, be open to any peer, so long as he has not accepted a writ of summons to the House of Lords, to sit and vote in the Commons. But the recent case of Mr. Wedgwood Benn, now Lord Stansgate, produced a court decision that this was not possible.

The plight of Viscount Hinchinbrooke emphasises the importance of the select committee of parliament which is now considering the composition of the House of Lords, and whether peers could relinquish their seats in the House of Lords and remain members of the Commons. It is not likely that its recommendations will be available in time to help Viscount Hinchinbrooke out of its dilemma. There are doubts as to whether the committee report can be tabled and dealt with before the next general election, so that Viscount Hinchinbrooke will be in exactly the same position as Lord Stansgate, and will not be eligible to stand as a candidate for parliament.

CIGARETTES ON TV

Repercussions of the recent report of the British Medical Association on the detrimental effects of cigarette smoking in relation to lung cancer are still being felt. One of the interesting results is the drawing up of a new set of rules for the advertising of cigarettes on television. These have been drawn up by the Independent Television Authority, in association with tobacco firms and advertising agencies.

The new rules are somewhat drastic. The courting couples whose pleasure never seems complete without a cigarette are to vanish from the TV screens. So also is the handsome type who implies with every puff that the smoking of cigarettes was the chief source of his manliness, strength and charm. The redrafted advertisements are required to avoid suggestions that smoking and masculinity are inseparable, that it is a desirable recreation for young people, a socially desirable habit and that it is a desirable recreation for heroiners. Instead, advertisements will be devoted to stressing the quality and flavor of the brand being advertised.

Cigarette advertisements on television have already been limited to the hours after 9 p.m., so that the younger TV viewers should not be tempted to start smoking. The cigarette companies are not concerned very much about the new rules. They will still be able to put their products before the public on TV, although the form of their commercials will be different.

Don't Try At Being Happy

WASHINGTON (CP) — "Don't try so desperately to be happy. Anxiety is not a bad thing."

So suggests Canadian psychiatrist Phil G. Ney in assessing the role of Christianity in what he describes as "an essentially sick society."

"Let's face it—to be popular you must be similar to those of that group," said Dr. Ney, writing in the Protestant fortnightly, Christianity Today. A graduate in medicine from the University of British Columbia, he now is assistant resident in psychiatry at the McGill University Allan Memorial Institute.

"To a great extent, our feeling of worth comes from how much others praise us. We have to lose face and our feeling of importance. We don't want our ego punctured. We don't want to be corrected."

We would rather be dishonest than considered a 'sucker' for returning incorrect change. Even on Sunday we rush around like the rest of the world to allay our anxiety with recreation."

SHIRK DECISION

Christians often shirk decision-making to avoid anxiety, he said. They seek books of advice on how to bring up children, make friends, remain healthy and make money.

"Men want some 'father image' to guide them in what to think or do, be it Kennedy or Khrushchev, and usually conform unless some uncomfortable situation will result."

"To avoid anxiety and mental anguish, men seek comfort in a variety of escapes. They travel to get away from their troubles, sleep to forget their labors, entertain to erase their sorrows and drink to banish their fears."

But Dr. Ney suggests anxiety—the fearful anticipation of some future unpleasantness—is inevitable and actually has definite value. Like physical pain, it can provide warning of new discomfort or trouble.

"Anxiety often stimulates as well as reveals spiritual growth. It helps us dissociate ourselves from the physical mind and body and to live 'in the spirit.'"

UK Seen As ECM Leader

VICTORIA (CP)—A Victoria editor says the United Kingdom will become leader of the European Common Market.

Richard J. Bower, editor-in-chief of the Colonist and one of four editors who went from Canada to study ECM, told a service club Wednesday in his opinion Britain would gamble her sovereignty to either win leadership of the market bloc, or simply be a part of Europe. The price would be high, he predicted, because Britain would have to support wages that would be threatened by a labor influx made possible with the free movement of workers in a common market setup.

Rutland Club Member Thanked For Gift To Mrs. Diefenbaker

Mrs. R. G. Bury of Rutland, a member of the "Primrose Club", a women's Conservative organization, received a letter Monday from Mrs. Diefenbaker thanking her for a gift of primrose plants. In the letter, which was a hand-written, personal one, the Prime Minister's wife said that she had planted them in the garden at 24 Sussex St., Ottawa, and "they would bring a bit of beautiful Kelowna to Ottawa."

The gift arose as a result of a conversation at the Kelowna airport on the occasion of the Diefenbaker's visit recently. When Mrs. Bury was introduced to Mrs. Diefenbaker, as a member of the Primrose Club, she remarked "she grows primroses too!" The prime minister's wife expressed a wish to have some of the plants for her own garden, which Mrs. Bury promised would be done.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Ennis and their two sons, of Manola, Alberta, are visitors at the home of Mrs. Ennis' mother, Mrs. D. Ennis. Casper Yochim, of Vancouver is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. K. Yochim, of Donahue Road.

Miss Loretta Manarin, of Cranbrook, is spending a vacation at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. V. Manarin. Miss Manarin is on the staff of the Cranbrook General Hospital.

Mr. Emil Mallach has returned home from Kelowna Hospital, having recovered from head injuries received in a fall from a loaded logging truck, at the Rutland Sawmill last Friday.

The sympathy of friends in the district is extended to the family of the late Gottfried Schueller, who passed away recently following a prolonged illness.

Mrs. R. C. Lucas has received an invitation to attend the Lieutenant-General's Garden Party at Government House on Wednesday next, and will leave early next week for Victoria.

Will Allocate Funds For Aid

CALGARY (CP) — The Canadian Federation of Business and Professional women has passed its $3,000 objective for a UNESCO gift coupon to aid women in the Middle East and Africa.

The fund will be closed and final total announced at the federation's convention at St. Andrews by the Sea, N.B., July 2-13, to be attended by 450 delegates.

The response of members to such international projects indicates the interest of Canadian women in the problems, particularly in the educational field, facing women in other parts of the world, said Federation President Mrs. Una MacLean Evans of Calgary.

AROUND TOWN

Dr. and Mrs. A. W. Brown have returned home recently from a six-week holiday in California and Hawaii. Flying first to Los Angeles where they enjoyed the International Rotary Convention, then on to the Isle of Maui for a few weeks before travelling to Honolulu where Dr. Brown attended the Pacific North West, Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat Convention. They returned to Kelowna by air last weekend via a stop-over at San Francisco en route.

Mrs. Robert O'Callaghan of Vancouver is spending a few weeks at the Scottish Cove Resort on the west shore.

Former Kelownians, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Weyenberg and family from Seattle, who have been enjoying a week's holiday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Treadgold have returned home.

Slim Waist Is Fashions Pet It's Young!

By IDA JEAN KAIN
Fat is insidious, it creeps up. Unhappily, creeping pounds loom large at the waist. When the squeeze is on, one might wish the dress manufacturer would allow just a bit more leeway in the waist measurement. Hold it! We wouldn't really want more latitude at the waist, for thickening through the middle is undeniably aging. If the waist pinches, alter your figure.

Ordinarily in giving waistline measurements I start with the small sizes and progress to the larger ones. For a change, let's start with large sizes and come down the scale. That's our objective.

Size 20, waist 32 1/2 inches; size 18, waist 30 1/2; size 16, waist 28 1/2; size 14, waist 27; size 12, waist 25 1/2; size 10, 24 1/2.

It is plain to see from the above that two inches off the waist measure, even in the large sizes, would let you slip into a size smaller dress. On the pound score, in misses sizes, 14 pounds on or off bring a change in size, and a 1 1/2 inch change in waistline. In women's sizes 16 pounds off equates with 2 1/2 inches off the waist—provided enough of the fat comes off the waistline.

How do you take weight off the waist? The streamlining way to slim down is to make the waistline the target for exercise. A clearly defined waist is not a matter of weight alone, but of muscle control. Toned muscles shape the waist. Stretching, combined with side-bending is wonderfully effective. Experiment. Stretch both arms overhead, then extend the stretch an inch, centering the uplift smack through the middle measurement. In brief, get the entire trunk into the stretch. Hold the muscular contraction and follow through with a side-bend.

With the following exercise you can re-tone the boundary line muscles. Sit in balance, on the hard seat of a dining chair without arms. Arc arms overhead with fingers clasped, palms turned upwards. Slowly s-t-r-e-t-c-h upward with the trunk muscles along the left side, then slowly bend sideways toward the right. Bend as far as you can without crumpling the waist along the right side. Hold this stretch-bend for a slow count of six, breathing freely. Slowly come back to upright sitting position, bring arms down and relax for a second or two. Repeat the action again on the same side. Follow through with a held stretch-bend to the left. Get the feel of the waist narrowing.

Make the waistline the target for exercise. The youthful, slim waist is fashion's darling—let's keep it that way.

ANN LANDERS

Take Control Paycheque

Dear Ann Landers: The trouble started when I was pregnant with our second child. My husband borrowed money to buy a motorcycle. Believe me, it was the last thing we needed. He lied and said the motorcycle belonged to a fellow he worked with, but I learned different.

He started to stay out late and claimed he was working. I learned he was chasing around with a young motorcycle crowd. I told him to grow up and behave like a father or get out. He improved a lot after that.

Now it is two babies and three motorcycles later. He doesn't run around any more but he's a compulsive spender. He has borrowed money from everybody we know. Our credit rating is disgraceful. I'm afraid to answer the telephone or the doorbell.

He makes good money but we're always robbing Peter to pay Paul. What can a mother of four children do with a nut like this? — BROKE AND IN ROCK

Dear Broke: Tell the nut to hand over his paycheque — uncashed — and settle for a pocket allowance.

Insist that he close charge accounts. Follow through after one week has passed. If he has not closed them YOU do it.

Get a list of everyone he owes. Start to chip away at each bill, no matter how small the payments. Any show of good faith will be appreciated.

If he refuses to cut out his irresponsible adolescent behaviour tell him to get out and stay out. The law says a man must support his family.

Dear Ann Landers: Our 12-year-old daughter showed up at the dinner table with a bouffant hair-do and black pencil outlining her eyes. I told her to leave the table and come back when she looked like a human being.

Her mother said I was too hard on the child and that all kids like to play at being grown up. She also said it's good for young girls to experiment with make-up and hair-dos because it's something they will need to know when they are older.

Since I was outshouted and outnumbered I decided to keep quiet until I wrote to you. Do you believe it's all right for a 12-year-old to practice adult hairdos and make-up this way?

ONLY A FATHER
Dear Only: And pray tell, what is she practicing to be — a house hunter? The only time it's fitting for a 12-year-old to frizz out her hair and pencil-line her eyes is on Halloween.

Your wife is doing the child a grave injustice by encouraging this premature primping. Too many youngsters are robbed of their childhood by over-anxious mothers who can't wait to push their daughters into the boy-girl ratrace.

Dear Ann Landers: I am engaged to a man whose first wife died four years ago. She was a lovely person and a good friend of mine.

Last night Ben asked me if I

Armstrong Float Entered In District-Wide Events

ARMSTRONG (Correspondent) — Armstrong City Council met this week with all members present. Correspondence was read, stating that the 15th annual conference of the Association of Assessors will be held in Kamloops September 12-14.

A letter from the local Klansmen Club informed council that the community float, towards which the city had contributed financially, had taken first place at the July 1 Luncheon Days. The float will be entered in parades at the Salmon Arm Jubilee, the Kelowna Regatta, the Penticton Peach Festival, the Pacific National Exhibition, and the Interior Provincial Exhibition. A photo of the float will be presented to council.

The clerk was asked to write a letter to the Klu Klux Klan on their "Arabian Encampment" which proved successful last weekend.

NO DELEGATES

The first annual meeting of the Public Works Association of B.C. will be held in Kamloops Sept. 26-28. Since previous lectures and workshops have been attended by so many engineers, it was decided to broaden the membership to include appointed public works officials generally. No one will be attending from Armstrong.

Accounts approved for payment for the past month were finance $8,346.12; works and waterworks $659; fire and light $1,050.43 and health and social welfare $1,743.77—a total of $12,400.32.

Public works chairman Ald. W. Parker told council 200 gallons of spray had been used on some of the city roadsides, with good results.

A sewage bylaw to provide for the borrowing of up to $140,000 for sewage was given first three readings. July 26 has been set as a tentative date for holding a public meeting for discussion of the bylaw, and a vote will be taken on August 7.

Dutch Dairies, Ltd. will be written, with a request to let the city know, in writing, what their intentions are toward taking action to stop the overflow of waste products from their plant on Pleasant Valley Road.

Subdivision plans for property owned by John Spelchan on Otter Lake Road and Wood Avenue, were approved by council.

CITY POOLS IN TOP SHAPE: INSTRUCTORS SET FOR WORK

VERNON—Vernon city engineer D. S. MacKay told city council that Polson Park pool and Lakeview Park pool are both chlorinated, and that tests brought "excellent" readings; in fact, said Mr. MacKay, "both pools are in first class shape."

At Polson Park pool, Miss Mary Gillespie and Miss Peggy Young are in charge; at Lakeview Park pool, Miss Tekki Fulton and Miss Beverly Lewers are instructors. Spares are: Miss Sheanne McCulloch, Miss Barbara Ross and Miss Dianne Davidson.

KAL SWIM EVENT

PG Expert to Supervise Water Bombing Display

VERNON (Staff) — Informa- tion officer Bill Edwards, of the Department of Forestry, Prince George, arrived here last night to personally supervise water bombing displays of two Avenger aircraft on Lake Kalamalka Sunday.

The demonstration, first of its kind in the Okanagan, will be held in conjunction with off-shore entertainment during the 12-mile marathon swim and is expected to commence at 1:30 p.m.

In actual practice battling forest fires, Avenger crafts drop a mud-pack solution on fires in attempts to extinguish them. For the demonstration here, water will be used to quell a fire on a raft at the north end of the lake. Mr. Edwards said the plane, which will take off from Kamloops, will be preceded by a "bird dog" plane—a Cessna 180—which would normally spot and direct the big bombers into the fire area.

MORE ENTRIES

Mr. Edwards will confer with the swim committee and president of the Hoo-Hoo Club, Ken Meneice, who was instrumental in arranging the water bombing, today. He returns to Kamloops briefly Friday to co-ordinate the flight with forestry officials.

Meanwhile two more entries have been received for the swim, swelling the total to 16. Dennis Murdoch, 22, of Kelowna and Bill Allan, 15, of Oyama have entered the big race which offers more than $1,000 in cash and other prizes. Murdoch won a recent distance swim on Skaha Lake, Penticton.

While swimmers will dominate the day's activities two non-swimmers plan to walk from Oyama to Kal Beach on top of Lake Kalamalka in special water boots. To keep law and order and spectator boats away from the swimmers, the RCMP boat and members of the power squadron will patrol swimming lanes.

Oliver OBC's Meet Labatt's Tonight At 8

Kelowna Labatts will be out tonight to take over sole possession of fourth spot in the Okanagan Mainline Baseball League, when they meet the third place Oliver OBC's at 8 o'clock at Elk's Stadium.

Labatts are currently tied with Kamloops Okanoks in fourth spot with six wins and seven losses. The locals have won their last four out of five games and will be out to extend their win streak.

Making his debut on the mound for the Labatts in regular league play will be ex-Tacoma Giant Mike Kannahan.

The ex-PCL hurler made a brief appearance for the Labatts during the Dominion Day weekend tournament against the Vernon Luckies.

Southpaw Gerry Driesen will probably handle the mound duties for the southern squad.

In league standings Vernon is currently out in front with 12 and six record, Merritt 13 and seven, Oliver 11 and seven, followed by Kelowna and Kamloops with Penikese in the cellar.

Hockey Clinic Helps Players Limber Up

NELSON (CP) — After three days of limbering up and loose skating, the 85 participants in the international hockey clinic began playing with the puck Wednesday.

The clinic is being held here for the second straight year, with the hockey youths playing, sleeping and eating under the roof of the Nelson civic centre.

This year the age group is younger than last year, centered on hockey enthusiasts from 12 to 18 years. The youths hold ice sessions twice daily, one in the morning and one in the afternoon, and have a theory session of a movie or chalk-talk in the evening.

14-Year-Old Swim Star Breaks 2 National Marks

VANCOUVER (CP) — Ralph Hutton stole the show from his older and better-known teammates here Wednesday to start the Canadian swimming and diving championships with a record-breaking performance.

The 14-year-old high school student from Ocean Falls, B.C., set two national records while en route to a surprising third-place finish in the 1,650-yard freestyle, only event scheduled opening day.

He finished the distance in better time than the previous Canadian record, but Ken Webb of Portland, Ore., and Sandy Gilchrist, defending Canadian champion from Ocean Falls, were ahead of him.

Webb, 16, finished in 18 minutes 13.9 seconds for the victory in a field of 25, but his time won't go into the Canadian record books, because they're maintained for natives.

Gilchrist, even with Webb until the last three lengths in the 55-yard Empira Pool at the University of B.C., finished about 10 yards behind in 18:34.2 and laid claim in the Canadian record, beating the previous mark of 18:51.4 set in 1955 by Bill Slater of Vancouver.

FOOS THE EXPERTS

Hutton, entered by the Ocean Falls team coach to pace Gilchrist in a record-breaking try at the 800-yard mark, fooled all the experts and especially Gilchrist, finishing third in 18:25.8.

The youngster, swimming the distance for the first time in stiff competition, took the lead from the start and held it until the 22nd length in the 30-length race.

His time for 800 yards was 8:43.6, cracking both the records for the 800 yards and the 800 metres. The 800 previously was held by Aldy Meinhardt of Vancouver, who swam it in 10:22.6 last August and the 800 did it in 9:54.3 in 1956 at the M metres was held by Slater, who did it in 9:54.3 in 1956 at the Melbourne Olympic Games.

"I set out to beat him any way I could," said young Hutton later.

Fourth place went to Gordon Eby, 14, of Prince Rupert in 19:05.2.

The men's and women's one-metre diving championships will be completed today, with nine of the sprints for men and women. The meet lasts through Saturday, when a 10-member Canadian team will be named to go to the British Empire Games in Perth, Australia, in November.

Drysdale needs only five more victories to reach his goal. His record is 15-4. Bob Purkey of Cincinnati Reds is next with 14 victories followed by Sandy Koufax of the Dodgers, 13, and Juan Marichal, San Francisco Giants, Dick Donovan of Cleveland Indians and Camillo Pascual, Minnesota Twins, 12 each.

Joeey Jay of Cincinnati, Art Mahaffey, Philadelphia Phillies, and Ralph Terry, New York Yankees have 11 victories apiece while Billy O'Dell San Francisco and Bob Gibson, St. Louis Cardinals have 10.

Jay, a 21-game winner in 1961, looms as the only repeater, Milwaukee's Warren Spahn, 12 times a 20-game winner, has only eight triumphs. However, the veteran southpaw usually comes on strong in the second half of the campaign.

Whitney Ford of the Yankees and Frank Lary of Detroit, the only others who hit the 20-victory mark last season, have been plagued by sore arms. Ford has won seven games and Lary only a pair.

Big League Pitchers Move To 20 Game Victory Mark

NEW YORK (AP) — Eleven big league pitchers, led by Don Drysdale of Los Angeles Dodgers, are moving toward the 20-victory mark. Nine are more than halfway there.

The final total is likely to be the highest since 1951 when 13 pitchers won 20 or more games. The major league record for 20-game winners is 17 set in 1903 and equaled in 1920.

Drysdale needs only five more victories to reach his goal. His record is 15-4. Bob Purkey of Cincinnati Reds is next with 14 victories followed by Sandy Koufax of the Dodgers, 13, and Juan Marichal, San Francisco Giants, Dick Donovan of Cleveland Indians and Camillo Pascual, Minnesota Twins, 12 each.

Gordie Howe Inks Contract For 17th Time

DETROIT (AP) — Gordie Howe, highest pointmaker in National Hockey League history, signed a contract Wednesday for his 17th season with Detroit Red Wings.

"Only three more contracts to go," said the 34-year-old Howe, who has refused to think about retirement until he has played 20 NHL seasons.

The veteran right winger enjoyed his finest campaign last season since 1958-59. Howe scored 33 goals and 44 assists for 77 points, third best in the league.

Howe is holder of the NHL's record for games played (1,050), assists (624) and points (1,126). He trails Maurice Richard's NHL record for goals by only 42. The Montreal Canadian great retired two years ago after amassing 544 goals in 18 seasons.

Unknown to Golf Fame Leads British Open

TROON, Scotland (CP) — Keith MacDonald was practically an unknown name to the golfing world before this year's British Open golf championship began.

But the British professional changed that Wednesday when he shot an amazing 69 to grab the first-round lead in the 72-hole tournament which has attracted many of golf's top competitors.

MacDonald fired his record-equaling round over the Old Troon course, defying a steady easterly wind, drizzle and the tough 7,045-yard layout to show the way for the other 118 who qualified.

One shot behind was the formidable Australian, Peter Thomson, four-time winner of the event.

And at 71, one under par, were defending champion Arnold Palmer of the United States and Kel Nagle of Australia, the 1960 champion.

Five golfers were tied at 72-

Harry Bradshaw of Ireland, Don Swaelens of Belgium Peter Butler of England, Douglas Beattie of England and Sebastian Miguel of Spain.

Jimmy Martin of Scotland and Hugh Boyle of Britain were tied at 73.

Gary Player, winner of the British Open in 1959, was among nine men tied at 74.

MacDonald's 69 equalled the course record set two days ago by Brown and Sam Snead of the U.S.

The good showing of ex-champs Thomson and Palmer make them favorites to be at or near the top when the firing ends.

Palmer is the only one of eight Americans who showed to advantage in the first round.

U.S. Open champion Jack Nicklaus had an 80 and Gene Littler a 9. Americans who did a little better were Phil Rodgers at 75, and Sam Snead, Jack Isaacs and Dong Essig at 76.

Former Brier Champion Tough On Golf Links

WINNIPEG (CP) — Two former opponents on the curling lanes met on the golf links Wednesday and provided the first upset of the seniors' golf championship of Canada.

Leo Johnson, champion brier skip of 1932, trounced Edmonton Mayfair's Gordon Dow 6 and 4 in the second round of match play at St. Charles Country Club.

Johnson plays out of Winnipeg Southwood.

Dow also is a former curler, but never reached the peak of Johnson. But the two met often in club play and Dow, a former Winnipegger, says things haven't changed.

"He's tough to beat on the curling lanes, and now I find on the golf links too," Dow commented.

Johnson will have to be good today in the championship flight quarter-finals. He meets Don McClellan of Winnipeg Niakwa who eliminated Henry Slack of Regina 3 and 2.

Niakwa's Norm Lucas edged Ken Shakespeare of Saskatoon Riverside on the 18th green.

George Hevenor of Toronto Summit and Dr. Whit Matthews of Shaughnessy won their games on the 15th green.

Hevenor eliminated Bert Hodge of Burlington, Ont., while Dr. Matthews sidelined Carl Vincent of the host club.

The other two main event matches saw Ben Merwin of Sudbury Idylwyld slip home two up on Cliff Dixon of Winnipeg Charleswood and Ed Saville of Saskatoon Riverside down Roy Napper of Winnipeg Niakwa 4 and 3.

CRIGGER QUITS

EDMONTON (CP) — Jim Crigger, 215-pound defensive end from East Tennessee State trying out with Edmonton Eskimos of the Western Football Conference, has turned in his equipment. Crigger worked out twice a day for eight days at the Eskimo training camp before deciding to quit.

Writers Slam Aussies For Killing Net Plans

LONDON (AP) — British sports writers slammed the Australians today for killing the plan for open tennis tournaments.

"They claimed the Aussies were responsible for swaying the voting at Wednesday's meeting of the International Tennis Federation in Paris, when the open tournaments scheme was thrown out for the third time in two years.

Sports columnists here have long supported the British Lawn

Tennis Association in its bid to open Wimbledon to professionals and amateurs alike. Today they reported the Paris meeting under such headlines as "sham on your selfish Aussies" and "so the great tennis sham drags on."

J. L. Manning of The Daily Mail, writing from Paris on what he called "the saddest day of 30 years in sport," declared:

"After three years' hard work by Britain and France to rid the game of 'shamateurism' and to make Wimbledon a genuine world championship, Australian selfishness has triumphed.

OFFERS SUGGESTION

Manning suggested that the All-England Club, which runs the Wimbledon tournament should now work to rule and ban all but "genuine amateurs" from competition.

"This would reduce the entry so dramatically that even Australia would come to its senses," Manning wrote.

Peter Lorenzo started his story in the Daily Herald: "Lawn tennis sham-amateurism lives on."

"To me this was sport's biggest day of shame, for the federation's own committee reported that only by opening the game to all comers would it be possible to eliminate the growing hypocrisy."

Eastern Track Star's Coach Previews BEG Competition

Fred Foot paused midway through a coffee and said: "This one is a British Empire Games preview if ever there was one."

"It will give us an idea about what will be up against in Australia next November when the Games are held in Perth."

As an afterthought, he added, it would give the others an idea, too.

The crew - cut 42-year-old coach of brilliant Bruce Kidd was talking a few hours before he and his 18-year-old protegee took a plane from Toronto for Britain and a crack at the three-mile run in the British track and field championships at London's White City Stadium Saturday afternoon.

"We've got to play it real cagey," Foot said. "We've got a bit of a line on the field Bruce will meet and we know that this is the greatest test of his career. It's a real toughie."

HIGH STANDARD

Foot explained why this race ranks as No. 1 since Kidd hit the big time a couple of years ago.

"The qualifying standard to get into this race is 13 minutes, 45 seconds," said Foot. "Compare this with the 14 minutes and 50 seconds standard set for meets in the United States and you get a pretty good idea of the opposition Bruce is up against."

"Over-all, the field in the London race will be the toughest he's ever met."

The man hardest to beat, as far as Foot is concerned, is 24-year-old Bruce Tulloh, the bare-foot botanist from Scotland who shed his shoes at a meet in Southampton, England, a few years ago. It came about when he was entered in the mile and three miles and, after a disappointing showing in the shorter run, kicked off his shoes in disgust and went out and won the three miles. Since then, he's padded around tracks—grass and cinder—without shoes.

GETS RESULTS

The 112-pound Tulloh is considered somewhat of an eccentric when he runs—but he gets results. Early last June he was clocked in 27 minutes 37.4 seconds for six miles, the best in the world over the distance in 1962.

"The important thing about running barefoot," he said at the time, "is that it makes you feel free. It also makes you lighter, but I guess it's really psychological."

Foot rates Tulloh with Murray Halberg of New Zealand, although he has never beaten him. "Tulloh is a good, fast miler. He's strong and he can either start off with a sprint or finish with one. He's a hard man to play."

Halberg, world record-holder over three miles with a time of 13:10 flat and Olympic 5,000-metre champion, beat Tulloh in New Zealand early this year over two miles and three miles and later on in the season split a pair of races with Kidd.

The Toronto youngster beat Halberg in California in the 5,000 metres (just over three miles) early in June and three weeks later Halberg left Kidd well behind in the U.S. national Amateur Athletic Union three miles at Walnut, Calif.

There was some excuse for that loss. Twenty-four hours earlier, Kidd had smashed the U.S. record for six miles with a time of 28:23.1.

Now, the immediate goal is to beat Tulloh and the field in London.

"Bruce has only one race on Saturday and he's on edge," Foot said. "When he gets that way he can be mighty dangerous."

It's more or less of a scouting trip for Foot. He is coach of Canada's track and field team to the Nov. 22-Dec. 1 B.E. Games.

"This trip to London will give me a line on the whole British team. It certainly should give me a good scouting report on the middle-distance runners, particularly Tulloh," he said.

Art Fortune Stolen In UK

LONDON (Reuters)—Thieves stole 35 paintings valued at nearly £400,000 ($1,200,000) from an art gallery in London's swank Mayfair district Wednesday.

Within hours all air and seaports had been placed on the alert to prevent the thieves from taking the masterpieces out of Britain.

Interpol, the international police organization, also was asked to help.

The insurers offered a reward of £20,000 for the return of the paintings 10 per cent of their insured value.

GOYA STILL MISSING

It was the biggest art theft in England since the theft of a Goya portrait of the Duke of Wellington from the National Gallery last August.

The Goya, valued at £140,000, still is missing.

Threshold Of Stardom For Phillie's Pitcher

Just 10 months ago Art Mahaffey's career stood at the brink of disaster. Today the young Philadelphia pitcher is standing at the threshold of stardom.

Hit flush over the eye by a ball thrown at full force from only two or three feet in a game at Cincinnati last September, Mahaffey has made a remarkable recovery, and is well on the way to fulfilling his great promise.

The 24-year-old right-hander won his 11th game Wednesday night, setting Houston Astros down on five hits for a 6-1 victory that propelled him closer to a possible 20-victory season.

The game — the only one scheduled in the National League — acted as the curtain-raiser for the second half of the baseball campaign. It rolls into full swing tonight with an 11-game program.

Last Sept. 17 Mahaffey decided not to slide in a play at second base and went in standing up. He was hit just above the right eye as Cincinnati shortstop Eddie Kasko crossed the base and fired the ball on a doubleplay attempt.

The accident left Mahaffey's career in jeopardy.

"They found," says Mahaffey, "I had suffered a hairline fracture and a concussion. I was in the hospital five days without getting up. For months I had throbbing headaches. They've cleared up and I'm all right now."

He certainly is. The triumph over the Colts — the eighth for the Phillies without a loss against the new National League entry — was Mahaffey's fifth in the last six starts. He has gone the distance each time and now has 10 complete games for the year and an 11-9 record.

Roy Sievers supplied the Phils' batting punch. The 35-year-old veteran tagged Hal Woodeshick (2-7) for a three-run homer in the first inning and later added a run — producing double. Ted Savage also homered in support of Mahaffey, who allowed the Colts' lone run in the ninth on Roman Mejias' double, a walk, Carl Warwick's infield single and Merritt Ranew's grounder.

QUEEN REWARDS WIMBLEDON WINNER

Queen Elizabeth presents Australia at Wimbledon. Laver Martin Mulligan, in all-England tennis final, 6-2, 6-2, 6-1.

AL Race Pretty Well Normal; Yankees Again Out in Front

At the season's midway point, things are normal atop the American League standings: New York Yankees are in front.

For a change, it hasn't been that way all the time.

The powerful Yankees, overwhelming favorites to sweep to their 27th pennant, have had an unbelievably hard time acting the part. Beset by a flurry of problems, mainly physical, the defending champions began to show their muscle only in the final days before the all-star game break.

They've shown enough, however, to prove it shapes up as another Yankee year.

By winning 10 of their last 13 games, the Yankees have overcome a pair of surprise challengers and head into the final half of the season with a one-game edge. Second are Cleveland Indians, who've been a problem for the Yanks, so far winning nine of 12 meetings with New York.

Next came Los Angeles Angels, setting the pace in a stunning development just a week ago but now 2½ games behind. Minnesota Twins, another surprise contender, are 4½ games back.

SETBACKS SLOW START

A combination of setbacks befell the Yankees all at once, costing them a change to get away to a runaway start.

Mickey Mantle suffered severe leg injuries that sidelined him for a month, arm trouble deactivated the left-handed pitching tandem of Whitey Ford and Luis Arroyo, and home run king Roger Maris went into a bad slump.

Almost simultaneously things righted themselves for the Yankees and they've displayed their superiority the last couple of weeks. Catching them figures to take some doing.

In addition to the surprises provided by Bill Ringer's patchwork band of Angels, and Sam Mele's upstart Twins, this season also had produced:

16-Year-Old Winnipeg Gal To Swim English Channel

LONDON (CP) — Fair-haired Claudia McPherson of Winnipeg flew into London today to swim the channel, during the second week in August.

The 16-year-old schoolgirl said at London Airport:

"My one ambition in life at the moment is to swim the English Channel."

"Last year I swam the 25 miles across Lake Winnipeg and was the youngest swimmer to do so."

"It took me 12 hours, 26 minutes, but I got swept quite a way off course by currents."

The people of Winnipeg's St. James district donated $4,000 towards expenses.

"Since June I have been swimming seven hours a day," she said. "It makes me awfully hungry."

Claudia's mother, Mrs. Hilda McPherson, nodded and said:

"She just eats and eats. She has lots and lots of steak to keep up her strength."

"Claudia's the odd one in our family. I can barely swim the width of the pool."

Claudia's coach George Brown, who is barely a year or so older than she is, arrives Friday. She said "he's not my boy friend, we're just good friends."

Mrs. McPherson will train at St. Margaret's Bay, Kent.

US Space Bomb Blast Sets Up Echo In Europe

LONDON (AP)—The United States space bomb explosion Tuesday divided the people of western Europe, waiting anxiously to see what the full effects of the blast would be.

Except for the Communist Daily Worker, most British newspapers defended the test—though some regretted that it had to be done.

"The Americans believe that the present tests are necessary to perfect their defenses," said the right-wing Daily Express. "Britain fully shares the secrets revealed by the latest experiments. The strength of the Western deterrent is reinforced. So is the prospect of peace. There is cause for satisfaction, not for complaint."

The Conservative Daily Mail said "We deplore their (the Americans') gamble with the Van Allen belt and still do. But the state of the world being what it is, we also recognize that they were compelled to do it by the needs of national security."

"And, of course, the Russians will follow suit."

REVEALS THREAT

In a news dispatch, The Mail said the bomb revealed a major threat to U.S. nuclear air power.

"Bombers of Strategic Air Command could be cut off from vital radio communication by the huge atmospheric disturbances," the newspaper said.

The Conservative Daily Telegraph said "It is impossible to applaud any of these appalling demonstrations except in the hope that it may be the last, or at least may bring the end into sight."

In West Germany, the left-leaning Frankfurter Rundschau declared:

"One thing is certain: The explosion, said the paper, had poisoned space and was the first step in 'space militarization and its use as a war ground for future satellites armed with nuclear weapons.'"

Opening lead—two of hearts.

A basic rule of defense is that you try in every way possible to beat the contract. This may be impossible in some hands, because declarer just has too much ammunition, but most of the time the battle is close and the outcome depends on how well each side handles its cards.

Always the defense keeps its eye on the goal. For example, in this hand, the aim of the defense is to win four tricks. Imagine you're sitting East and defending against four spades.

West leads the two of hearts and dummy wins with the ace. Right away you make a mental note that your partner led his fourth best heart, which means, in turn, that declarer has a singleton. There are therefore no heart tricks possible for your side.

South takes two rounds of trumps and then leads the ten of clubs, which you win with the king. It is obvious your side cannot win any more tricks in spades, hearts or clubs, so your only hope lies in taking three diamond tricks.

This is not a difficult matter to arrange if your partner has the queen and declarer has as many as three diamonds. All you would have to do is cash two diamonds and continue the suit to let your partner take the setting trick.

However, you say to yourself that West may have the jack, not the queen. That possibility also offers a chance of defeating the contract, but you would destroy it if you first cashed the A-K.

The play that gives you the best chance of stopping the contract is to lead the two of diamonds. In the actual case, if you lead the deuce, South, who does not know you have the A-K, will most likely play low from his hand. If he does, he goes down. Thus, the low diamond return gives you the maximum chance of beating the hand.

West leads the two of hearts and dummy wins with the ace.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

FOR TOMORROW

The moon, entering Sagittarius on Friday, generates a feeling of adventure and great enthusiasm. Enthusiasm is laudable, of course, but be sure to harness it to projects from which you will reap practical and long-term benefits. Don't go overboard on those which can result only in temporary advantages or, worse still, illusory ones.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY

If tomorrow is your birthday, you should find the year ahead marked by progress and enduring success where ambitions and worthwhile objectives are concerned. This is your year to attack major projects with determination and vigor—especially those which call for foresight and stick-to-itiveness. Be conservative during the next six months, however, especially during August and October—and by the end of December you will be in a position to expand operations for 1963, which promises to be an exceptionally good year for you.

The latter part of this month, September and November should prove especially favorable for occupational interests. It would be well, however, to finish projects already started before beginning the new enterprises possible then, so that complete concentration may be given to the latter. Happy domestic situations, romance and new friendships are indicated for most of the next 12 months.

A child born on this day will have great determination and a "will to win" based on courage and sound objectives.

SACRED BULLS MAY HAVE TO GO

Calcutta streets may never be the same again. A move is afoot, and much protested it is by the traditionalists, to shift the sacred bulls to a country grazing area where they will be fed and looked after. The move, which is opposed by strict Hindus, is aimed at clearing the streets of the bulky animals. Traffic has to be directed around these bulls and any driver, or pedestrian hurting the animals is likely to be mobbed by irate Hindus.

Federal Gov't 'Created' Nation-Wide Concern

OTTAWA (CP)—The big and influential Investment Dealers' Association of Canada Wednesday blamed a string of federal government deficits for a financial atmosphere of "apprehension and concern."

The IDAC in a brief to the royal commission on banking and finance called for an immediate return to "fiscal orthodoxy" — deficits only in recession periods, with budget balances in other years to help retire federal debts.

The association said that neither text books nor tradition shed much light on why the government ran up seven deficits in eight years—with another one forecast this year — regardless of highs and lows in the economy, and despite "stifling" levels of taxation.

It urged a study leading to a sweeping revision of the Canadian tax structure and listed these two consequences—among others — of the government's taxing and spending policy:

1. The deficits, along with the money — supply increase to pay for them, have led to "wide-spread and growing distrust" in government long-term bonds as their price stability — normally the main attraction for investors — had been sharply reduced.
2. The Bank of Canada, as the government's debt manager, had been put into a "troublesome conflict of interest position" in which objectives of sound monetary policy — including the fight against inflation — had been sacrificed or delayed from time to time. Monetary policy had become "quite ineffective."

Presumably, the association said, the government was trying to alleviate unemployment when it set out a few years ago on an enlarged spending program and broader welfare payments.

"Evidence of success from this policy is inconclusive," the brief said.

SETS ALTERNATIVE
In recommending overhaul of the tax structure, the IDAC raised the possibility of using indirect taxes—such as sales and excise taxes — as an alternative or partial alternative to income taxes.

Taxes now are too high and too complicated in Canada, the association said. They were destroying incentive. Simplification was badly needed.

No reference was made by the IDAC to Prime Minister Diefenbaker's May 5 pledge during the election campaign of a royal commission to examine tax structure.

Rather, the association suggested that the job be handled by a select committee made up of representatives from business and finance along with "practical economists," officials of the Canadian Tax Foundation, and lawyers and accountants.

'Switchboard' Satellite Raises Tough Problems

ANDOVER, Me. (AP)—Imagine hitting a baseball in Miami with a rifle fired from New York. That's about the technical problem involved in utilizing a satellite for space communications.

Add as a further complication that the satellite is moving at a speed of up to five miles a second.

Engineers casually twirled dials of electronic tracking equipment and pick the Telstar satellite out of space as it came up over a Pacific horizon 5,000 miles away.

The tracking equipment in turn aimed the world's largest horn antenna, a 380-ton monster, until it pointed straight at the artificial moon.

The control centre is a place of cold, glassed-in efficiency manned by 40 scientists and technicians. The monster horn is housed a quarter mile away in a huge plastic bubble that seems to take on immensity of space itself.

Standing within the dome while the big horn is following a satellite is an eerie silence. The huge metal frame has a wondrous motion, red lights flash as a warning to keep off the circular track and hydraulic motors push the frame with a deep, throaty roar.

The dome is 15 stories high, built of strips of plastic 1-16th of an inch thick. The biggest structure of its kind in the world, the fabric alone weighs 70 tons but is supported by only 1-10th of a pound of air pressure.

Briton In Moscow Blasts Mr. K's Threat To Peace

MOSCOW (Reuters)—A British socialist told the World Peace Conference here today that Nikita Khrushchev's speech to the conference two days ago gave "little hope" for peace.

Sydney Silverman, a Labor party legislator in Britain, was commenting on Khrushchev's declaration that Russia's nuclear test ban, but "no one can expect unilateral action from us."

Silverman, who received an ovation from many Western and some neutralist delegates, told the delegates:

"I say to Mr. Khrushchev in all humility if he were to defence the Soviet Union, unilateralism would give the world real hope. His speech gives little hope."

Silverman, a stocky, white-bearded figure, noted what he described as Khrushchev's "work for peace."

LAUDS PREMIER K.
"I pay full tribute to Mr. Khrushchev for his work for peace," he said. "If the third world war has not broken out, this is largely due to his work. The situation offers him and Mr. Kennedy a grave challenge."

Silverman referred to Khrushchev's remark in his speech that the Soviet Union regarded the policy of starting a world war for the victory of communism as "alien to us."

He added that if President Kennedy said the same in respect to capitalism "we will be halfway towards peace, but only halfway."

But both sides should renounce the use of nuclear weapons, which are of no use for peace, he said. "If the third world war has not broken out, this is largely due to his work. The situation offers him and Mr. Kennedy a grave challenge."

He added that if President Kennedy said the same in respect to capitalism "we will be halfway towards peace, but only halfway."

Crack-Up And A Record Highlight Stampede's Day

CALGARY (CP) — A spectacular crack-up and a world record performance highlighted chuckwagon races of the Calgary Stampede Wednesday night.

The week-long 50th anniversary stampede reached the halfway mark with a total attendance for the three days of 256,125. There were 93,543 spectators Wednesday, a decrease of 1,967 from the same day last year.

The Peter Bawden outfit of Calgary wrote a penalty-free record of 1:06.9 into the books to lower its own world mark of 1:07.5 established only last year.

The sensational time, scored in the final heat of the night's racing, increased Bawden's edge 4 1-10 seconds over his nearest rival, the Orville Burkinshaw outfit of Calgary.

The spectacular smash-up, from which both men and horses walked away badly shaken but uninjured, came in the fourth heat when the Tom Lauder outfit of Trough, Alta., was sideswiped by another team.

Orville Strandquist, driver of the other wagon involved in the crash, waved off an ambulance when fitted with a wick burns like a candle.

The candlefish of the Pacific coast a sort of smelt, is named because the oily body when fitted with a wick burns like a candle.

Moon Army Scoffed At By Gagarin

LONDON (Reuters) — Soviet spaceman Maj. Yuri Gagarin said a recent suggestion that a military base be established on the moon was "adventurism on a cosmic scale," the Soviet news agency Tass reported.

Gagarin was addressing the Soviet-sponsored World Congress for General Disarmament and Peace taking place in the Kremlin Hall of Congresses.

Delegates from about 100 countries, including Canada and the U.S. are attending in Moscow.

He said "overseas politicians and generals" were making space flights more difficult by exploding multi-megaton bombs in the upper reaches of the atmosphere.

Gagarin, who made the first manned space flight April 12, 1961, said Russia possessed "everything necessary for sobering those who regard space as a military springboard."
